

JERRY SIMPSON CRITICALLY ILL

Death of the Ex-Congressman Momentarily Expected

Associated Press.
Roswell, N. M., July 22.—Jerry Simpson, former congressman of Kansas is seriously ill here, having ruptured a blood vessel of the heart. Death may result any time.
Later.—The condition of Jerry Simpson is critical. He was able to be dressed but the slightest exertion may terminate fatally.

Special Rates To Colorado

Annual meeting Grand Aerie, Fraternal Eagles, Denver, Colo., August 14 to 24, 1935. National Association of Local Fire Insurance Agents, Denver, Colo., August 16 to 18, 1935. American Osteopathic Association, Denver, Colo., August 15 to 19, 1935. For these occasions the Frisco will sell round trip tickets to Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Colorado, at the low rate of $17.55. Dates of sale August 12, 13 and 15, final return limit August 25. Extension can be secured on these tickets by depositing ticket with joint agents not later than August 25, and payment of fee of 50 cents at time of deposit. For further particulars, see Frisco agents.

Foley's Kidney Cure purifies the blood by straining out impurities and tones up the whole system. Cures kidney and bladder troubles. Sold by Peoples Drug store.

RETURNING WITH THE REMAINS

Ship Bearing the Body of John Paul Jones is Sighted

Associated Press.
Norfolk, Va., July 22.—The remains of Admiral John Paul Jones, recently found in Paris, and consigned under the direct charge of General Horace Porter, former United States ambassador to France, passed Virginia Capes this morning on the United States cruiser Brooklyn, under Rear Admiral Sigbee.

Where happiness is found.
Don't look for true happiness in the mansions of the very rich, where high priced physicians are called in to doctor every ailment. But seek it and find it in the comfortable homes of the middle-classes and so-called poor where Green's August Flower is always used to keep the family healthy—to cure all stomach troubles, whether indigestion, constipation, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, bilious attacks or torpid liver. Trial bottle August Flower, 25c. Big bottle, 75c. Winsor Drug Co.

WHEAT DESTROYED

Lunatic Sets Fire to Stacks and Granaries.

Associated Press.
Wichita, Kan., July 22.—Thousands of bushels of new wheat has been destroyed by a lunatic at large in Reno county between Butler and Burron. He passed through the district last night setting fire to stacks and granaries. Incendiary not known. posse being organized to pursue lunatic.

The pills that act as a tonic and not as a drastic purge, are Dewitt's Little Early Risers. They cure headache, constipation, biliousness, etc. Early Risers are small, easy to take and easy to act—a safe pill. Mark Hamilton, hotel clerk at Valley City, N. D., says: "Two bottles of these famous little pills cured me of chronic constipation." Good for either children or adults. Sold by Peoples Drug store dw

An Interesting Dog Fight.

A dog fight on the street is a common occurrence, but one of a little more exciting nature occurred at the corner of Illinois Ave. and Wilson street Thursday night between two fox terriers, one belonging to Emmett Rea and the other to Oliver Bethell. The dogs began fighting three different times, the first two times other dogs interfered and they quit and waited until the other dogs were gone. The last round was so fierce and lasted so long that a large crowd had gathered around the fighting dogs, and refused to allow any interference. The dogs were so evenly matched that they fought until both gave out and quit. There is always "something doing in Vinita."

MILLIONAIRE KILLS FAMILY

And Injures Himself in an Automobile Accident.

Associated Press.
Los Angeles, Cal., July 21.—M. T. Hancock, the millionaire plow inventor and manufacturer killed his wife, son and daughter, and seriously injured himself as a result of an automobile accident here late last night.
Hancock had the reputation of being a daring driver.

GONE TO PRISON.

Deputy Marshals Took Eleven Prisoners to Atlanta, Ga. Last Night

United States Marshals, Harry Darrough, C. H. Caldwell, Theo Perry and Homer Trost, left here over the Frisco late Friday with eleven prisoners for Atlanta, Ga. Their names, crimes and sentences were as follows:
Chas Williams, wife murder; life.
Amos Tomlin, carnal knowledge; one year and one day.
Tom Banks and L. S. Shelton, perjury; one year and a day.
Alford King, larceny; two years and eight months.
Ed Barnett and T. M. Bowman, larceny and receiving stolen property; one year and a day.
Dick Heron, violating postal; one year and a day.
Jno Roper, adultery; two years.
E. C. Simms, false pretense; one year and a day.
Chas. Skiller, receiving stolen property; one year and a day.
The prisoners were placed in a special car which had been partly loaded with prisoners at Muskogee and was in charge of Bud Ledbetter. The prisoners from Muskogee were:
Alonso Adkins, burglary and grand larceny, five years.
James Brown, grand larceny, one year and a day.
Jim Coffe, rape, 3 years.
Wm Davis, assault to rape, 3 years.
Frank Dyke, rape, 5 years.
Sam Flyn, assault to kill, 1 year and 1 day.
Dave Green, grand larceny, 1 year 1 day.
Will Hill, grand larceny, 1 year and 1 day.
Sam Hayes, grand larceny and burglary, 3 years.
Will Johnson, grand larceny, 1 year and 1 day.
Jim Kent, larceny, 1 year and 1 day.
New Wason, factory, 2 years.

Several persons killed by bombs.

HOT WEATHER BROKEN

Intense Heat in Large Eastern Cities Broken.

Associated Press.
New York, July 20.—The wave of intense heat here and in other eastern cities has been thoroughly broken.

TO INVESTIGATE LIFE INSURANCE

Governor Higgins asks for a Joint Commission.

Associated Press.
Albany, N. Y., July 20.—Governor Higgins this afternoon sent the legislature a message recommending for its consideration the appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance as carried on in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

Associated Press.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—The City National bank failed to open its doors here today. Bank held paper of C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, to the amount of upwards of one hundred thousand dollars and failure is direct result of closing of the First National of Topeka, of which Devlin was principal stockholder. The bank's last statement showed deposits to be $1,476,648. Some time ago comptroller of currency at Washington instructed officers of the City National bank to repair its capital. This was done by borrowing from local capitalists. Following the failure of the First National at Topeka, Kansas City capitalists became instant upon a repayment of the loan and this demand caused the officers of the City National to decide upon closing their institution. The only other bank in Kansas City which was caught in the failure of the First National of Topeka, was the American National, which is said to hold upwards of two hundred thousand dollars of Devlin's paper. It is stated positively today in the Associated Press by a leading banker that other Kansas City institutions would not permit the bank to fail. There is no appointment of a joint commission to investigate the business of life insurance in that state.

ELECTRIC PLANT FOR PEAT

Current Power Passing Through Disintegrator, But Preserves Calorific Power.

An electric process for the treatment of peat has lately been adopted in England. The peat is transformed into a hard combustible which is well adapted for use under boilers. The operation is said to last two and a half hours and the material costs less than ordinary coal. The combustible which is thus produced has a high calorific value and gives scarcely any smoke, reports the Scientific American.

A plant on a large scale is shortly to be installed in Ireland, and if successful it will be an important move in the direction of utilizing peat as fuel under the best conditions. In the present process the peat as it comes from the bogs is placed in cylinders which revolve at a high speed, while a set of air fans is used to drive off the water, which forms about 80 per cent. of the total.

A set of electrodes is placed in the cylinders and connected with a dynamo. The circuit is completed through the mass of the peat between the electrodes. The resistance which the peat offers to the current causes a considerable heat and the latter breaks up the peat and pulverizes it, but without causing it to lose any of its properties.

In order to increase the conductivity of some kinds of peat they add certain chemical products. After this process the peat is treated by a set of leveling rollers which gives it a plastic consistency so as to enable it to take any desired form. From here it passes to an automatic press which forms it into briquettes. It is then ready for use and is taken to the storeroom.

It is to be remarked that although the passage of the current through the peat gives rise to a heating effect, the results obtained in this way are quite different from those which another method of heating would produce. By fire heat the particles of the peat lose their different constituent matters, while the electric heating causes them to disintegrate, thus freeing their cellular material and distributing it throughout the entire mass of the peat. Thus all the particles become adapted for combustion.

To obtain a harder material the disintegrated peat is given a larger treatment with the current. The air is kept out by a tight cover, and the mass is then treated with an adhesive solution so as to unite the particles. The experiments have been made with the process on a large scale and at a great expense, and it is said to have been greatly improved in the details and can now be applied commercially.

BANK SHOWS ITS MONEY.

Local Branch in Italian Quarter of Philadelphia Makes Display of Cash.

The banks of the Little Italy area showed the most generous signs in that quarter of the town because of the kind of business they do and the various services they render. An opportunity for the banks to show their power was given by the Philadelphia World, Philadelphia's most popular newspaper, which is published by the Philadelphia World Publishing Co., 221 Chestnut street, when it held a display of its cash in the Italian bank in the city. Mr. DeSantis's display consisted of real money of all denominations, paper and coin, and it about every denomination in the world.

The coins and pieces are spread out in such a way that the value of most of them may be seen from the street, and it is a particularly good advertisement because it convinces the depositors that Mr. DeSantis has the goods. The display is separated from the street not only by the window glass, but also by a wire netting and it is so view every day and night.

THE BABY'S PROGRESS.

What It Should Weigh When Six Months Old and Stages of Its Physical Activities.

Fifteen or sixteen pounds is average weight for the six-month-old baby. It will not gain so much from this age through the second half of the first year. From two to four ounces a week is the amount of flesh that it should take on, and in very hot weather a baby will probably gain less or not at all. When names are called it will often recognize them now and look at the person spoken to.

Creeching will take up most of a baby's activities during the seventh and eighth months.

At nine months it will weigh about 18 pounds if it is a boy, and 17 1/2 pounds if it is a girl. By this time the little one begins to try to pull itself up to its feet.

Ten-month-old babies can usually stand alone, and some even walk a few steps by themselves.

When a baby has completed its first year it weighs from 20 to 21 pounds, boys weighing more than girls. In length it will measure 29 inches, and its head and chest 18 inches in circumference. Teeth will have come and a child can ordinarily use a few one-syllable words. A great deal of what is said to it is understood. Sometimes a baby can walk alone.

In old Montpelier there exist mummies as a mutual friendly society, under the title of St. Path, which has an unbroken history dating back to 1290. Statute books dating to 1602 are still preserved, and they are believed to be best reproductions of statutes in force a century or two earlier, which were burned during the civil war of the sixteenth century. During all these years the society has never failed its members in case of sickness, injury or infirmity.

BLACK SEA CREWS MUTINES

As a Consequence Maneuvers are Cancelled.

Odessa, July 22.—Report has reached here from Sebastopol, to the effect that a mutinous conspiracy has been discovered among the crews of the vessels of the Black Sea squadron. As a consequence of which some maneuvers have been cancelled.

MRS. S. K. WAYMER DEAD.

Passed Away At Her Home Near West Point, Miss. Last Thursday.

The many friends of Mrs. S. K. Waymer will be grieved to learn of her death, which occurred on Thursday July 13. She was formerly first assistant principal of the Vinita public schools. The following article was received here last Thursday.

IN MEMORIAM

We who stood by the bedside of Mrs. Alma Robertson Waymer Thursday afternoon could almost hear this faint whisper from heaven's bright shore "Enough come up higher" and as we saw that face brighten and expression change from one of suffering into one of angelic beauty and those eyes open wide as if looking straight through the beautiful gates and heard her whisper "My Holy Savior" "My mother" and all the saints we knew she had heard and recognized her Saviors voice and her spirit was entering into that home prepared for her. Though her leave taking was expected yet it was hard to give her up and we shall miss her Oh! so much. She wanted to live, feeling she had so much to live for yet was willing to go if it was for Saviors will. A noble life laid down a short one indeed, but one full of usefulness, of self sacrifice, and devotion to duty and in laying aside this life she has taken up a brighter one. Like her blessed Lord she bore all her suffering without complaining, she was a devoted wife, a dutiful daughter and an affectionate sister and true friend but prominently above this stands the thought that she was a devout follower of Christ. A noble spirit may